Disposable masks are designed to last for a maximum of an eight hour day, however in hot, dusty, humid conditions, or where the wearer is removing or adjusting the mask frequently, the EFFECTIVE life of the mask will be much reduced. Replace the respirator with a new one if; the respirator is removed in a contaminated area; excessive clogging of the respirator causes breathing difficulty; the respirator becomes damaged; the smell of vapors becomes apparent. A mask should fit snugly, if not, the mask should be replaced, and the old one disposed of in an approved rubbish receptacle.
